Cindy and Lisa, who have been dating for two years, are getting married. They've invited their friends Ashley, Kelli and Megan to the ceremony. Kelli, for her part, has invited Alex, Laura and Phoebe. Cindy and Lisa didn't mind these impromptu guests. On the contrary, the couple is very happy to see them.

What's more, another surprise awaited the lovers. During the ceremony, the idol Marie sang a love song, Cindy and Lisa's favorite!

After they kiss and the post-wedding celebration begins, they go to their friends to find out whose idea it was to have Marie sing. None of the women will tell them, preferring to keep it a secret.

Finally, Cindy and Lisa learned from Marie herself that it was Kelli who had asked her to come and sing. Kelli also paid all her performance fees, and they cost a fortune. The couple didn't know how to thank Kelli for what she had done. Marie suggested that they do nothing to avoid creating friction and disputes between the friends. A wise idea that Cindy and Lisa decided to listen to.
